INFORMED CONSENT / AGREEMENT FOR SERVICES – MINOR

This document is intended to provide important information to you regarding your treatment. Please read the entire document carefully and be sure to ask your therapist any questions that you may have regarding its contents.

Introduction

This Agreement has been created for the purpose of outlining the terms and conditions of services for the minor child(ren) _____ [client name(s)] (herein referred to as "Client") and is intended to provide _____ [name of parent/legal guardian] (herein referred to as "Representative") with important information regarding the practices, policies and procedures of Sheila L. Hansen, Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist #115782, Registered Play Therapist #T4545, doing business as Healing Hearts Family Counseling, Inc. (herein referred to as the "Therapist"), to clarify the terms of the professional therapeutic relationship between the Therapist and the Client. Any questions or concerns regarding the contents of the Agreement should be discussed with the Therapist prior to signing it.

Information About Your Therapist

At an appropriate time, your Therapist will discuss her professional background with you and provide you with information regarding her experience, education, special interests, and professional orientation. You are free to ask questions at any time about your Therapist's background, experience and professional orientation. Your Therapist is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist: Sheila L. Hansen, Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist #115782.

Information About This Practice

The name of this practice is Healing Hearts Family Counseling, Inc. The individual therapist who owns and operates this practice is Sheila L. Hansen, Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist #115782. This practice is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist Corporation.

Fees and Fee Arrangements

The agreed upon fee per individual therapy session is $ _____. The Therapist reserves the right to periodically adjust the fee. The Client will be notified of any fee adjustment in advance. Individual sessions and conjoint family sessions are 45-50 minutes in length depending upon maturity level of the child.

Fees are payable at the time that services are rendered. Representatives are expected to pay the full amount of the fee at the beginning of each session. We do not accept insurance and do no insurance billing. However, we will provide a monthly "Superbill" that the Representative can submit to their insurance company for reimbursement purposes. We operate on a cash, check or credit card basis, with a written receipt given for each payment made. If the Representative's check is returned for non-sufficient funds, the Representative will be responsible for the session fee, plus a $15 non-sufficient fund charge. This payment is due before the start of the next session and must be made in cash, money order or credit card only.

From time-to-time, the Therapist may engage in telephone contact with the Client for the purposes other than scheduling sessions. The Client is responsible for payment of the agreed upon fee (on a pro rata basis) for any telephone calls longer than ten minutes. In addition, from time-to-time, the Therapist may engage in telephone contact with third parties at the Client's, or the Representative's, request and with the Client's advance written authorization. The Client is responsible for payment of the agreed upon fee (on a pro rata basis) for any telephone call longer than ten minutes.

Please ask your Therapist if you wish to discuss a written agreement that specifies an alternative payment procedure. If for some reason you find that you are unable to continue paying for your therapy, you should inform your Therapist. Your Therapist will help you to consider any options that may be available to you at that time.

Policy Regarding Consent for the Treatment of a Minor Child

The Therapist generally requires the consent of both parents prior to providing any services to a minor child. If any question exists regarding the authority of the Representative to give consent for psychotherapy, the Therapist will require that the Representative submit supporting legal documentation, such as a custody order, prior to the commencement of services.

Minors in Treatment

Parents are expected to bring their minor child to treatment personally (unless arranged in advance with Therapist) and must stay in the waiting room or immediate area during the session. This enables parents to participate in treatment or help subdue a child who is out of control, if necessary. Parents are also expected to be on hand to take a child to the rest room during session.

Minors and Confidentiality

All communications between Client and Therapist will be held in strict confidence and will not be released to any third party without written authorization from the Client/Client's Representative. If you participate in family therapy, your Therapist will not disclose confidential information about your treatment unless all person(s) who participated in the treatment with you provide their written authorization to release such information. However, it is important that you know that your Therapist utilizes a "no-secrets" policy when conducting family therapy. This means that if you participate in family therapy, your Therapist is permitted to use information obtained in an individual session that you may have had with her, when working with other members of your family.

There are exceptions to confidentiality. Exceptions to confidentiality include, but are not limited to: therapists are required to report instances of suspected child, dependent adult or elder abuse. Therapists may also be required or permitted to break confidentiality when they have determined that a client presents a serious danger of physical violence to another person/reasonably identifiable victim, or when a client is dangerous to him or herself or the person or property of another. Disclosure may also be required pursuant to a legal proceeding.

The Representative should be aware that the Therapist is not a conduit of information from the Client. Communications between therapists and clients who are minors (under the age of 18) are confidential. Psychotherapy can only be effective if there is a trusting, confidential relationship between the Therapist and the Client. Although the Representative can expect to be kept up to date as to the Client's progress in therapy, he/she will typically not be privy to detailed discussions between the Therapist and the Client. However, parents and other legal guardians who provide authorization for the child’s treatment are often involved in his/her treatment. Consequently, your Therapist, in the exercise of her professional judgment, may discuss the treatment progress of a minor patient with the parent or legal guardian. Clients who are minors and their parents are urged to discuss any questions or concerns that they have on this topic with the Therapist. The Representative can expect to be informed in the event of any serious concerns the Therapist might have regarding the safety or well-being of the Client, including suicidality.

Sessions, Appointment Scheduling and Cancellation Policies

Sessions are typically scheduled to occur one time per week at the same time and day, if possible. Your Therapist may suggest a different amount of therapy depending on the nature and severity of the concerns. Your consistent attendance greatly contributes to a successful outcome.

In order to cancel or reschedule an appointment, you are expected to notify your Therapist at least 24-hours in advance of your appointment. If you do not provide your Therapist with at least 24-hours’ notice in advance, you are responsible for payment for the missed session. Due to the fact that many more people request psychological/mental health services than we are able to provide, we have adopted the following policies to ensure that our time is used to its broadest extent.

Please read and initial your acknowledgment and acceptance of the following:

_____ As the scheduling of an appointment involves the reservation of time set aside specifically for Initials you, we will accept cancellation or rescheduling made at least 24-hours prior to a scheduled appointment. If your child is ill, I would be happy to use the time for a telephone consultation with parent(s)/legal guardian(s). Please do not bring sick children to therapy.

_____ The full session fee ($_____) is charged for late cancellation (less than 24-hours prior to a Initials scheduled appointment) or ‘no show’ appointments.

_____ It is important to note that insurance benefits DO NOT apply to late cancellation and ‘no
Initials show’ charges. The $_____ session fee is solely YOUR responsibility.

Risks and Benefits of Therapy

A minor client will benefit most from psychotherapy when his/her parents, guardians or other caregivers are supportive of the therapeutic process.

Psychotherapy is a process in which the Therapist and Client, and sometimes other family members, discuss a myriad of issues, events experiences and memories for the purpose of creating positive change so the Client can experience his/her life more fully. It provides an opportunity to better, and more deeply understand oneself, as well as, any problems or difficulties the Client may be experiencing. Psychotherapy is a joint effort between the Client and the Therapist. Progress and success may vary depending upon the particular problems or issues being addressed, as well as many other factors.

Participating in therapy may result in a number of benefits to the Client, including, but not limited to, reduced stress and anxiety, decrease negative thoughts and self-sabotaging behaviors, improved interpersonal relationships, increased self-confidence.

Such benefits may also require substantial efforts on the part of the Client, including active participation in the therapeutic process, honesty and a willingness to change feelings, thoughts, behaviors, etc.. There is no guarantee that therapy will yield any or all of the benefits listed above. Participating in therapy may also involve some discomfort, including remembering and discussing unpleasant events, feelings and experiences. The process may evoke strong feelings of sadness, anger, fear, etc. There may be times when the Therapist challenges the Client's perceptions and assumptions, and offers different perspective(s). The issues presented by the Client may result in unintended outcomes, including changes in personal relationships. The Client should be aware that any decision on the status of his/her personal relationships is the responsibility of the Client.

During the therapeutic process, many clients find that they feel worse before they feel better. This is generally a normal course of events. Personal growth and change may be easy and swift at times, but may also be slow and frustrating. The Client should address any concerns regarding his/her progress in therapy with the Therapist.

Professional Consultation

Professional consultation is an important component of a healthy psychotherapy practice. As such, the Therapist regularly participates in clinical, ethical and legal consultation with appropriate professionals. During such consultations, the Therapist will not reveal any personally identifying information regarding the Client.

Records and Record Keeping

The Therapist may take notes during session, and will also produce other notes and records regarding the Client's treatment. These notes constitute the Therapist's clinical and business records, which by law, the Therapist is required to maintain. Such records are the sole property of the Therapist. The Therapist will not alter her normal record keeping process at the request of any client. Should the Client, or the Representative, request a copy of the Therapist's records, such a request must be made in writing. The Therapist reserves the right, under California law, to provide the Client, or the Representative, with a treatment summary in lieu of actual records. The Therapist also reserves the right to refuse to produce a copy of the record under certain circumstances, but may, as requested, provide a copy of the record to another treating health provider. The Therapist will maintain the Client's records for ten years following the termination of therapy, or when the Client is 25 years of age, whichever is longer. However, after the ten years, the Client's records will be destroyed in a manner that preserves the Client's confidentiality.

Client Litigation

The Therapist will not voluntarily participate in any litigation, or custody dispute in which the Client, or the Representative, and another individual, or entity, are parties. The Therapist has a policy of not communicating with the Client's attorney and will generally not write or sign letters, reports, declarations, or affidavits to be used in the Client's legal matter. The Therapist will generally not provide records or testimony unless compelled to do so. Should the Therapist be subpoenaed, or ordered by a court of law, to appear as a witness in an action involving the Client, the Representative agrees to reimburse the Therapist for any time spent for preparation, travel, or other time the Therapist has made herself available for such an appearance at the Therapist's usual and customary hourly rate.

Psychotherapist - Patient Privilege

The information disclosed by the Client, as well as any records created, are subject to the psychotherapist-patient privilege. The psychotherapist-patient privilege results from the special relationship between the Therapist and the Client in the eyes of the law. It is akin to the attorney-client privilege or the doctor-patient privilege. Typically, the Client is the holder of the psychotherapist-patient privilege. If the Therapist receives a subpoena for records, deposition testimony, or testimony in a court of law, the Therapist will assert the psychotherapist-patient privilege on the Client's behalf until instructed in writing, to do otherwise by a person with the authority to waive the privilege on the Client's behalf. When the Client is a minor child, the holder of the psychotherapist-patient privilege is either the minor, a court appointed guardian, or minor's counsel. Parents typically do not have the authority to waive the psychotherapist-patient privilege for their minor children, unless given such authority by a court of law. The Client, or Representative, should be aware that he/she might be waiving the psychotherapist-patient privilege if he/she makes his/her mental or emotional state an issue in a legal proceeding. Representatives should address any concerns he/she may have regarding the psychotherapist-patient privilege with his/her attorney.

Therapist Availability/Emergencies

You are welcome to phone your Therapist in between sessions. However, as a general rule, it is our belief that important issues are better addressed within regularly scheduled sessions. You may leave a message for your Therapist at any time on her confidential voicemail. If you wish your Therapist to return your call, please be sure to leave your name and phone number(s), along with a brief message concerning the nature of your call. Non-urgent phone calls are returned during the Therapist's normal workdays within 24 – 36 hours. The Therapist is unable to provide 24-hours crisis service. If you have an urgent need to speak with your Therapist, please indicate that fact in your message and follow any instructions that are provided by your therapist's voicemail. Please be sure to leave your name and phone number(s), along with a brief message concerning the nature of your call. In the event of a medical or psychiatric emergency or an emergency involving a threat to your safety or the safety of others, please call 911 to request emergency assistance or go to the nearest emergency room.

You should be aware that your Therapist is generally available to return phone calls within approximately 24-36 hours, but cannot guarantee the calls will be returned immediately. Your Therapist is not able to return phone calls after 9:00 pm. Your Therapist is not available to return phone calls on week-ends and holidays.

About the Therapy Process

It is your Therapist's intention to provide services that will assist you in reaching your goals. Based upon the information that you provide to your Therapist and the specifics of your situation your Therapist will provide recommendations to you regarding your treatment. We believe that therapists and patients are partners in the therapeutic process. You have the right to agree or disagree with your Therapist's recommendations. Your Therapist will also periodically provide feedback to you regarding your progress and will invite your participation in the discussion. Your Therapist will work with you to develop an effective treatment plan. Over the course of therapy, your Therapist will attempt to evaluate whether the therapy provided is beneficial to you. Your feedback and input is an important part of this process. It is the goal of your Therapist to assist you in effectively addressing your problems and concerns. However, due to the varying nature and severity of problems and the individuality of each patient, your Therapist is unable to predict the length of your therapy or to guarantee a specific outcome or result.

Termination of Therapy

The length of your treatment and the timing of the eventual termination of treatment depend on the specifics of your treatment plan and the progress the Client achieves. It is a good idea to plan for termination in collaboration with your Therapist. Your Therapist will discuss a plan for termination with you, as you, the Client approach the completion of your treatment goals. The Client or the Representative may discontinue therapy at any time at his/her discretion. If you or your Therapist determine that the Client is not benefiting from treatment, either of you may elect to initiate a discussion of the treatment alternatives. Treatment alternatives may include, among other possibilities, referral, changing the treatment plan, or terminating therapy.

The Therapist also reserves the right to terminate therapy at her discretion. Reasons for such termination, include, but are not limited to, untimely payment of fees, failure to comply with treatment recommendations, conflicts of interest, failure to participate in therapy, Client's needs are outside of Therapist scope of competence or practice, or the Client is not making adequate progress in therapy.

Upon either party's decision to terminate therapy, the Therapist will generally recommend that the Client participate in at least one, or possibly more, termination sessions. These sessions are intended to facilitate a positive termination experience and give both parties an opportunity to reflect on the work that has been done. The Therapist will also attempt to ensure a smooth transition to another Therapist by offering referrals to the Client or the Representative.

Expectations of Clients

All clients are expected to behave appropriately while they are receiving services at this office. This includes: respecting the privacy and confidentiality of others, being quiet in the waiting room, and helping to maintain a neat, clean, and safe waiting room and therapeutic environment.

Social Media Policy

Addendum to Informed Consent / Agreement for Services - Minor

This document outlines the office policies related to use of Social Media. Please read it to understand how I conduct myself on the Internet as a mental health professional and how you can expect me to respond to various interactions that may occur between us on the Internet. If you have any questions about anything within this document, I encourage you to bring them up when we meet. As new technology develops and the Internet changes, there may be times when I need to update this policy. If I do so, I will notify you in writing of any policy changes and make sure you have a copy of the updated policy.

Friending

I do not accept friend or contact requests from current or former clients or their parents on any social networking site (Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, etc.). I believe that adding clients as friends or contacts on these sites can compromise your confidentiality and our respective privacy. It may also blur the boundaries of our therapeutic relationship. If you have questions about this, please bring them up when we meet and we can talk more about it.

Interacting

Please do not use SMS (mobile phone messaging) or messaging on Social Networking sites such as Twitter, Facebook, or LinkedIn to contact me. These sites are not secure and I may not read these messages in a timely fashion. Do not use wall postings, @replies, or other means of engaging with me in public online if we have an already established client/psychotherapist relationship. Engaging with me in this way could compromise your confidentiality. It may also create the possibility that these exchanges become a part of your legal medical record and will need to be documented and archived in your chart. If you need to contact me between sessions, the best way to do so is by phone at (949) 424-4083. Direct E-mail at Sheila@hhfcoc.com is the second best method for quick, administrative issues such as changing appointment times. See the E-mail section below for more information regarding E-mail interactions.

E-Mail

I prefer using E-mail only to arrange or modify appointments. E-mail is not completely secure or confidential. If you choose to communicate with me by E-mail, please be aware that all emails are retained in the logs of both your and my Internet service providers. While it is unlikely that someone will be looking at these logs, they are, in theory, available to be read by the system administrator(s) of the Internet service provider. You should also know that any E-mails I receive from you and any responses that I send to you become a part of your legal record.

Business Review Sites

You may find my therapy practice on sites such as Yelp, Healthgrades, Yahoo Local, Bing, or other places which list businesses. Some of these sites include forums in which users rate their providers and add reviews. Many of these sites comb search engines for business listings and automatically add listings regardless of whether the business has added itself to the site. If you should find my listing on any of these sites, please know that my listing is NOT a request for a testimonial, rating, or endorsement from you as my client, as it is unethical for therapists to solicit testimonials. Of course, you have a right to express yourself on any site you wish. But due to confidentiality, I cannot respond to any review on any of these sites whether it is positive or negative. I urge you to take your own privacy as seriously as I take my commitment of confidentiality to you.

You should also be aware that if you are using these sites to communicate indirectly with me about your feelings about our work, there is a good possibility that I may never see it. If we are working together, I hope that you will bring your feelings and reactions to our work directly into the therapy process. This can be an important part of therapy, even if you decide we are not a good fit. None of this is meant to keep you from sharing that your family is in therapy with me wherever and with whomever you like. Confidentiality means that I cannot tell people that you are my client and I am prohibited from requesting testimonials. But you are more than welcome to tell anyone you wish that I'm your psychotherapist or how you feel about the treatment I provided to you, in any forum of your choosing. If you do choose to write something on a business review site, I hope you will keep in mind that you may be sharing personally revealing information in a public forum. I urge you to create a pseudonym that is not linked to your regular E-mail address or friend networks for your own privacy and protection.

GPS / Location-Based Services

If you used location-based/GPS services on your mobile phone, you may wish to be aware of the privacy issues related to using these services. I do not place my practice as a check-in location on various sites such as Foursquare, Gowalla, Loopt, etc. However, if you have GPS tracking enabled on your device, it is possible that others may surmise that you are a therapy client due to regular check-ins at my office on a weekly basis. Please be aware of this risk if you are intentionally “checking in,” from my office or if you have a passive LBS app enabled on your phone.

Conclusion

If you have questions or concerns about any of these policies and procedures or regarding our potential interactions on the Internet, do bring them to my attention so that we can discuss them.
